Sturtevant Announces That The Holiday Train Is Not Coming To Sturtevant in 2011

Sturtevant Village President Steve Jansen announced today that the Canadian Pacific Railroad has informed the Village that the Canadian Pacific Holiday Train will not make a stop in Sturtevant in 2011. For years the Canadian Pacific Holiday Train stopped in Sturtevant on its annual run across the country. The Holiday Train has historically brought entertainers to Sturtevant where they perform for the people who would gather to look at and admire the brightly decorated train. This year, although the Holiday Train is still running, the Canadian Pacific Railroad decided that it would stop in Milwaukee instead of Sturtevant.

The event not only attracted hundreds of people but it served to collect food and raise money for the Racine County Food Bank. Jansen stated "We are very disappointed. I know that many people will also be disappointed that this festive holiday event will no longer take place in Sturtevant. It is also sad that when many families are struggling and in need of the assistance of the Racine County Food Bank that this event was cancelled by the Canadian Pacific Railroad."
